A course in Literature and Culture and a supplementary bridging course are held for all interested students and members of faculty at the TUHH. Together with international students, works by major German-language writers are read and current topics are discussed in terms of their cultural content. The result is a forum of the cultures that cross each other's paths at the TUHH. Drama performances, films, exhibitions, lectures and discussion groups give an additional stimulus to the dialog.
